Speaking Topics

52 Magic Mondays: Photographing God on the Streets of New York.

Megan's signature talk, she uses the power of her photography and personal stories to explain how she tapped into her own inner guidance and personally answered the age old question, "why am I here?". Stories of synchronicity and "coincidence", captured in delightful images, will leave the listener eager to tap into more of their own inner wisdom and intuition.

The Power of a Personal Project

This talk is geared towards the photography community and discusses the power and benefits of taking on a personal photography project.

Bio

Megan's passion for photography ignited in 2014 when she switched to Olympus gear. Soon after, she took on and completed an original and evolving year long street photography project titled "52 Magic Mondays."

She traveled by train every Monday, for 52 Mondays in a row, to photograph the streets of New York City. Megan shared over 3,000 images on her blog and achieved an amazing amount of personal and spiritual growth from the project. In 2017, Megan was recognized by Olympus Corporation as an Olympus Superfan brand ambassador.

Megan continues to blog and photograph her life. She regularly speaks about the transformational journey photography inspired in her.
